IMPROVED CRUSHING MACHINE.

C. H. GOODMAN'S

Latest Improvement in

MACHINERY FOR CRUSHING, GRINDING AND TRITURATING

Stone, Minerals, Pyrites, and Ores of every kind, (dry or wet), Granite, Flint, Concrete, Potters' Rough Goods, Cement, Chemicals, &c.,

Also for Washing and Separating Metals from Ores, and Amalgamating Gold from Quartz.

This apparatus from its many advantageous qualities, viz., Simplicity, Efficiency, and Cheapness, combined with Superabundant Strength, is rendered equal to the roughest work, likewise being comparatively light and easy of transit. The machine stands alone and

UNRIVALLED IN THE WORLD.

If the material is no required to be reduced finer than rough sand, or fine gravel, it may be worked or purchased without the Triturator, the same only being used in the production of fine powder. Likewise, the washing or amalgamating dish will only be needed when ores and quarts are in question.

The importance attached to this Machine is, that it is not applicable to one object only.—Its advantages may be summed up thus:—

1st.—The crusher consists of a horizontal ram, mounted loosely on an eccentric, by means of which a crushing and grinding movement is attained.

2nd—The material is reduced to its required size by simply setting the dies accordingly.

3rd—The two acting faces are moveable, and can be replaced in a few minutes at a trifling cost, which does not amount to one hundredth part the cost and trouble of rollers.

4th—Where the triturator is required, the material passes over a vibrating sieve (as seen in the illustration), the fine falling through, and the coarse passing into the dies hopper, where it becomes reduced to powder.

5th—Where washing and amalgamating powers are required, the finely ground quartz is discharged into the dish containing quicksilver, whereon water is constantly poured, the whole being stirred by means of routers, and the mud and tailings pass off into a sluice attached to the lip of the dish, intended to catch what precious metal may have escaped amalgamation.

It may also be necessary to state the Triturating discs are constructed in such a way as to admit of long wear, and will work to the last without the slightest injury to the quality or fineness of the material.

THE MACHINES ARE MADE IN THREE SIZES.

No. 1. Crushing 20 tons per day of ten hours, Road metal
No. 2. " 40 " " Producing
4 tons of Quartz per 10 hours,
No. 3. Crushing 60 tons per day of ten hours Producing
8 tons of Quartz per 10 hours.

Extract from "The Engineer," May 12, 1871, page 320

"The ram-head works against a fixed Toothed face, and, if there were nothing more, stones put into the hopper would be simply crushed between the two—much as in Blake's machine. But here the similarity ends. It has now been found that what we may best term a chewing action materially facilitates the breakage of the stones, and this chewing action is obtained by mounting the ram-head and its thrust-bar of handle on an eccentric close to the head. The motion attained by the use of this eccentric produces the precise effect required very effectually, and the arrangements are very simple and mechanical and the machine appears to have nothing about it to get out of order. We were much pleased with it."

RUBBER BOOTS.

(Patented December 1st, 1868.)

Leather (outside) Soles.
Iron Clad Heels.

The usual way of nailing Leather Soles on Rubber Boots makes holes quite through the Soles, which are sure to leak. These Leather Soles are fastened by studs embedded in the Rubber when the Boots are made, but do not go through the Soles. The Boots are therefore perfectly Water-Proof, and the Soles can be mended without making them leak. They will wear three or four times longer than the ordinary double sole Rubber Boots.

Esquimalt Graving Dock.

THE GOVERNMENT OF BRITISH Columbia are prepared to receive Tenders for the construction of a Graving Dock, at the Naval Station, Esquimalt Harbor, under the guarantee provided in the Twelfth Section of the Terms of Union of this Province with the Dominion of Canada, with Section 4 in the following words:—

"The Dominion Government shall guarantee the interest for ten years from the date of the completion of the work, at the rate of five per cent. per annum, on such sum, not exceeding £100,000 sterling, as may be required for the construction of a first class Graving Dock at Esquimalt."

The Dock to be of masonry, and of not less than the following dimensions:—

Length on floor 370 feet,
Do over all 400 feet,
Width between copings 90 feet,
Do on floor..... 45 feet,
Do of entrance..... 83 feet, to afford a depth of water on the sill of not less than 26½ feet at high water springs, and to be substantially constructed to the approval of Government, upon a site to be provided by the person whose tender may be accepted.

Further particulars as to site, borings, &c., may be obtained from T. A. BUCKLEY, Esq., Chief Engineer to Government, upon application in writing to the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works.

Tenders must specify the time within which the Dock will be completed, and must be accompanied by drawings and descriptions showing exact dimensions, materials, and mode of construction of proposed Dock.

Tenders are to be sealed, superscribed "Tender for Esquimalt Graving Dock," addressed to the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, Victoria, British Columbia, and delivered at his Office before noon of the 15th day of November, 1872.

Persons who may consider the above guarantee to be insufficient, are at liberty to tender on the basis of such supplemental guarantee by the Provincial Government, or upon such other financial inducements, as they may suggest.

The Government do not bind themselves to accept the lowest or any tender.

Each tender must be accompanied by a Bond for the Contractor, and two sufficient sureties, for the payment of £10,000 to Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, conditioned upon the due fulfilment of the terms which it accompanies, provided it be accepted within three months from the said 15th November.

The Canadian Pacific Railway.

It is quite evident our American cousins are beginning to feel ill at ease in view of the fact that the Canadian Pacific Railway is assuming the appearance of a real living project, and that whatever doubts at one time may have beclouded the enterprise, based upon the supposed financial inability of the young Dominion to carry through so gigantic a work, are fast breaking away and giving place to a feeling that more unlikely things have happened, and that the probabilities now are that the road will be built within the time agreed upon between the Government of this Province and that of the Dominion. It is not so very long ago that our American neighbors treated the bare idea of such an undertaking with unfeigned ridicule, and made it their boast that the Golden Gate of San Francisco should constitute the portals through which the commerce of the Orient must flow on its way to the markets of America and Europe. We do not know that they were so much to blame for having indulged in such bright visions of commercial supremacy, seeing that there was none to dispute their claim thereto save and except the Dominion of Canada, which they supposed possessed neither the population nor the capital to enable it to undertake so vast an enterprise as that of building a railway from ocean to ocean through British territory. Nor were the Americans alone in want of faith in reference to Canada's ability to construct the Canadian Pacific Railway, even after she had given her pledge to British Columbia that she would do so within a specified period of time; it was no unusual circumstance to come across gentlemen in this city who if you mentioned the railroad to them would roll up their eyes and shrug their shoulders, and with an air of the most positive assurance tell you that Canada neither could nor would build the road. Public opinion has recently undergone a considerable modification on this subject, both at home and abroad; and instead of treating it now as a utopian idea, parties are beginning to examine it in the light of a commercial speculation and to weigh the probable effects it will produce when finished upon existing channels of communication. The steadily increasing wealth of the Dominion, her healthy financial condition, with a surplus over expenditures amounting to $3,250,000, after spending some $10,000,000 in public works the past year, taken in connection with the Imperial guarantee of $12,500,000 toward the construction of the railway, combine in giving an air of solidity to the scheme and to imbue the public mind with a spirit of confidence that the Canadian Pacific Railway is not a mere visionary idea but a real substantial reality. Some of our American exchanges affect still to believe that it will never be built, for the reason that its course will be so far north that it will not be able to overcome the snow blockades with which it will be beset the greater part of each year, and which will render it practically unserviceable. Those who thus write simply give expression to what they desire, but it is very well known that in the higher northern latitude through which the Canadian Railroad will run the snowfall is not so great as it is in the latitude traversed by the Central Pacific Railway, nor will it be so subject to blockade by the drifting snow for the reason that the high winds which prevail nine degrees further south are seldom or never known there. The following extract from the Sacramento Union we give as a specimen of the style of argument indulged in by many of our American contemporaries touching our railway project. It will amuse our readers rather than edify them: "Great Britain will not get off with a song for her delinquencies, or something worse, in connection with the escape of cruisers from her ports during our civil war. In addition to the worth of the vessels and cargoes destroyed by the pirates, which we assume she will have to pay, the Canadian Government comes in for indemnity for lost fishing rights and for indirect damages resulting from the Fenian scare along the border. The Canadians, either from contact with Yankees or native shrewdness, have proved themselves able to drive a sharp bargain with the home Government. They set up a claim for lost fishing rights and damages from Fenian raids, and estimated the compensation at $20,000,000. It was a shrewd trick to put the amount at a good round figure and claim a disposition to be conciliatory by taking a smaller sum if offered. The man who aims at the sun will find his bullet will go farther than if pointed at a lower object. The Canadians understand the principle and act upon it. Of course they were ready to take a less sum if offered, and the offer came from the home Goverment to compromise in a manner on $12,500,000, in the shape of a guarantee of that amount for the construction of the intercolonial railroad. It is a good bargain for the new Dominion, which actually lost nothing by the treaty of Washington; or if they did, the treaty was one of those anomalous bargains by which both sides are despoiled, because the New England fishermen, with plausibility equal to that used by the Canadians, complain that they have been injured by the Washington treaty also, and Gen. Butler has given voice to their complaints in stronger language than they are able to do themselves. By this guarantee Great Britain cheats herself with the idea that she is at once producing harmony with her American provinces, and by assisting in constructing a railroad to the Pacific paving the way for a competition in the carrying of Asiatic products across the continent. This Pacific railroad on British territory is an old scheme, discussed in the British Parliament as early as 1855; but so far has gone but little further than talk, and it is quite problematical if it ever goes any further. A part of the route is so troubled with bogs that a plan was suggested when the matter was first up for discussion in Parliament, to raise the bed of the railroad six feet through the entire snow belt in order that winds and plows might free the track more easily from the snows. It is plain that this would make an expensive road of it. Our own experience in crossing elevated ranges in a country nine degrees of latitude further south is conclusive that a transcontinental railway in the British possessions would be unserviceable six months in the year. The promise of a railroad is, however, of service to quiet the recalcitrant British Columbians, who, isolated from the New Dominion and impregnated with American ideas, are bound by no strong ligaments of interest with the other parts of the British North American colonies. The kindly care of a paternal government in furnishing a link to connect them with the balance of the New Dominion is bound to find some sort of appreciation, but self-interest will overcome all this, and the attractive power of an empire having its centre but a little farther south and the same community of interests will eventually overcome the traditions of nationality."

DEATH.

On Tuesday, the 21st inst., at Steven's Hotel, South Saanich, George Leggatt, eldest son of the late George Leggatt, Esq., Guilford, Surrey, England, aged 31.

A HINT FOR OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT.—The Ottawa Times, in referring to the celebration which will take place in that city on Dominion Day,—1st of July,—says:—"We look forward to the 1st of July with a feeling of pleasure, being certan that the anniversary of Confederation will be celebrated in a becoming manner, and with greater eclat in the capital than in any other part of the Dominion. The Fire Brigade of the city, who have a natural tendency to do things energetically, have taken the matter of the celebration in hand, and fortunately it has been left entirely to them. Believing in the old practical say, "Better early than late," they took the work in hand about two months ago, and have been progressing with the preparations since, surely and successfully. They have canvassed the several wards of the city thoroughly for subscriptions, and it is believed they will be able to offer premiums to the amount of $2,000 for steam and fire engine competitions, boat and foot races, games, &c. The premiums will be large and remunerative to the successful parties for any expense or trouble they may incur. The programme is not yet agreed upon, but what we have stated above respecting premiums, &c., is on good authority. [The Fire Department of the Capital of the Pacific Province will also take in hand a celebration of the day, here, and we doubt if they will be outdone by the "boys" of the Dominion Capital.]

DEATH OF AN ENGLISH AUTHOR.—London, May 1st.—Horace Mayhew, the well-known litterateur, died at his residence in this city to-day. He was for many years attached to the staff of "Punch," being associated in this connection with the late Mr. Mark Lemon, and many other writers of ability. As a writer he enjoyed a decided prosperity, his contributions being marked by a vein of humor and clever satire. In addition to his labors as a magasinist and periodical writer, he produced, in conjunction with his four brothers, a series of humorous novels and Christmas stories, which were given to the public as the work of the "Brothers Mayhew." He also published several humorous works under his own name. Until a short time before his death, Mr. Mayhew continued to be an industrious contributor to periodical literature.

A FUNNY PETITION.—The farmers of King Co., N. B., have petitioned the Local Legislature as follows: The petition of the undersigned humbly sheweth that more than one dog to a family is a public nuisance and often the means of a great deal of harm to their own and neighbor's sheep, as dogs are always harmless unless associated, when they are more readily inclined to mischief. They are a great detriment to agricultural societies imporing choice breeding sheep, as they are just as liable to be killed as the poorer qualities. The prayer therefore of your humble petitioners is that your honorable body may pass an act imposing a tax on every family keeping more than one dog, and in duty bound, &c.

BOARD OF EDUCATION—FOURTH MEETING.—A full Board, consisting of Messrs. Drake Williams, Tolmie, Marvin, Munroe, Langley, and the Superintendent, met for the transaction of business yesterday afternoon. Rules and regulations for the government of public schools were adopted. Several applications for teachership were submitted and filed. A communication from Stuart's Lake, where there are about thirty-six children of school age, was read. The petitioners will be at once notified to take the necessary steps for forming a school district under the provisions of the Act. This is one of the oldest settlements in the country.

ENDORSEMENT OF GREELEY.—The Irish Citizen, Irish Democrat and Irish People (all Democratic) strongly endorse the Cincinnati nominations. Greeley has received congratulatory dispatches from Chief Justice Chase, Garret Davis, Leslie Coombs, John B. Dettree, and Richard Michaelis, editor of the Chicago Neime Presse. Coombs and Davis say that Kentuckians will rally around the standard of the life-long supporter of Clay.

MESSRS. TURNER, BEETON & TUNSTALL have to inform their customers that, owing to the detention of the Panama steamers, no European freights have come to hand by the Prince Alfred this trip. They have about thirty-five cases of goods now on the way, a large portion of which will no doubt arrive by the next boat.

FINE LIQUORS.—We direct notice to the fine line of liquors advertised this morning, and for which Messrs. Turner, Beeton & Tunstall are agents. The brandies are peculiarly recherche, some of them being forty years old.

FOR THE MAINLAND.—The steamer Enterprise left at 9 yesterday morning for New Westminster with the following passengers: Mrs. Colonel Lane, Messrs. Bishop, A. Watson, F. H. Clarke and C. Strouss. She had but a light freight.

THE Emperor Napoleon has sent to Mr. Carpenter a handsome subscription to the fund now being raised for the family of the late Mr. H. N. Barnet, for many years the editor of the Sunday Times.

THE Duke of Edinburgh, accompanied by several of his friends, visited the Times office recently, and witnessed with great apparent interest the various processes by which that wonderful morning paper is produced.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.—The walls of a building in course of erection at Kirkcaldy, Scotland, fell one day last month while the men were at work, suffocating nine men—masons and laborers.

FOR THE EAST COAST.—The Sir James Douglas left at 7 yesterday morning for Nanaimo and way ports. Miss Bate, Captain Musters, R. N., and T. Smith Allatt were among the passengers.

WATER SUPPLY.—Mr. Bulkely, Government Engineer, accompanied by Mr. Homfray, C. E., with a party, will proceed to Elk Lake to-day, to survey for a route to bring water into the city.

THE Government Printing Office is removed to the building formerly used as the Treasury. The Government Engineer—Mr. Bulkeley—takes the office vacated by the printing department.

THE Board of Cemetery Trustees will hold their first meeting (informal) to-day at the Land Office. The Attorney General is preparing the Trust Deeds.

FOR PUGET SOUND.—The steamer North Pacific left for Puget Sound at noon yesterday with a few passengers, among whom were the Waldron Dramatic Troupe.

The Canada Pacific Railroad under Discussion in the Canadian Parliament.

OTTAWA, Ontario, April 27.—The most important bill of the session was introduced in the House of Commons last night by Sir George Cartier. It provides for the construction of the Canada Pacific Railway. According to the terms by which British Columbia came into the Union the road is to be commenced not later than July, 1873, and completed within ten years. The proposition of the Government is that the road shall start from Lake Nipissing, from which point to the Pacific Coast the distance is some 2,700 miles. The work shall be done by a private company, which shall give proof of its bona fide ability for undertaking it by lodging with the Receiver General the sum of $1,000,000. Under the bill the Government will have power to arrange with any one of the company now applying for the charter, or with an amalgamation of them. The subsidy to the company will consist of lands and money, the land grant to be alternate blocks of twenty miles deep, and a money subvention of some $30,000,000. The blocks of land have been made twenty miles in depth so as to make the Dominion grant uniform with that agreed to be given by British Columbia. The Government expects that the quantity of land, in alternate blocks, reserved by them will be sufficient to reimburse the country for the money subsidy. But even if it should not, the Treasury is now in a sufficiently healthy condition, as Sir George Cartier remarked, to justify the expenditure, spread over ten years as it will be.

In addition to the main line, two branches are proposed to be built—one from some point in Manitoba to the boundary line, and another from a point on the main line to Lake Superior. It is not proposed to make any grant in money to these branches, as several companies are applying to carry out the work. There will be no difficulty, Sir George observed, in proceeding with the undertaking.—S. F. Bulletin.

DEATH.—George Leggatt, Esq., favorably known among a large circle of friends in this Province, died yesterday after a long illness and much patient suffering. He was removed by death when in the prime of manhood. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

THE CHIEF ENGINEER of the Fire Department inspected the city water tanks yesterday and found them all in good condition and properly supplied with water—with the exception of Langley street cistern.

FROM THE WEST COAST.—The sloop Thornton Capt. Brown, arrived yesterday from Barclay Sound, with a cargo of furs and oil to Messrs. L. & J. Boscowits.

THE Tomahawk is to be resuscitated under the editorship of its originator, Mr. Arthur A. Becket. The first number will appear next month.

TAKEN TO PRISON.—A man, said to be discharged from the Scout, was with difficulty taken to jail yesterday, so drunk and obstreporous was he.

THE MAUDE left for the East Coast settlements and Nanaimo at 8 o'clock yesterday morning; she had five passengers and a small freight.

JAS. A. GRAHAME, Esq., has telegraphed to Mrs. Grahame that he arrived in San Francisco on Saturday last.

THE Deluge steam engine was out for practice last evening.

THE cricket match is postponed until Saturday.

Dominion Government Assay Office

[London Canadian News.]

The value of gold assayed at the Cariboo office during the year 1871 was 488,887 dols. 69 c. The receipts for the same period were 2,477 dols. 75 c. and expenses 3,241 dols. 79 c. This shows a sum of 764 dols. against the office, which is mainly accounted for by additions in the shape of sheds, stores, &c., which will not again be required. There is also on hand a considerable amount of charcoal, chemicals, &c., sufficient to last far into the present year. Altogether, the office may be considered as having paid its expenses for the year 1871. The fact that the value of gold has increased since the establishment of the office in July—viz., from 1½ to three per cent. in favor of the miner, proves the necessity for keeping on the office, especially when the receipts are equal, or nearly equal, to the expenses.

The amount of gold melted and assayed since the opening of the Assay-office in Barkerville has been steadily increasing, and there is little doubt that next year will show the amount of receipts to be still larger. An idea of the benefit derived from the Assay-office may be obtained from the fact that had the amount of dust which was assayed in 1871 been sold before the establishment of the office, the miners would not have got so much for it by about 14,000 dols.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S BETTER TERMS.—The subject of granting better, that is more equitable, financial terms to New Brunswick will undoubtedly come up for discussion in the present session of Parliament. The Ottawa Free Press writing on this subject says: Nova Scotia this year, Quebec and Ontario during the last five years had handsome yearly surpluses. Those of the latter have been especially large, swelling in the aggregate to millions. New Brunswick on the other hand has witnessed the reserve in her exchequer yearly diminishing. In 1867 she had a reserve fund of $200,000, which had been reduced to $82,000, and this year must be still further reduced by some thirty or forty thousand dollars, so as to leave the fast vanishing quantity of $40,000 or $50,000 to represent the original $200,000. During the past year owing to temporary and exceptional causes, there had been a gain of several thousands of dollars, which left a balance to the amount of $6,568 64. Nevertheless, the original reserve was rapidly melting away, and two years more would see it altogether disappear. Such appear to be the facts of the case, and they furnish a strong argument for fairly and patiently enquiring into the grounds of the claims for better terms set up by New Brunswick.

ACCORDING to the published statements of the Clerkenwell News that paper had in one week 15,000 advertisements (which is an average of 2,500 per issue), "showing an excess of several thousands over every other paper." The largest number of advertisements ever seen in the Times was about 1,800, in the Daily Telegraph about 1,700, and in the Standard about 800. These figures, great as they are, are completely put in the shade by those of the Exchange and Mart of March 6th, which contained the extraordinary number of 4008 advertisements, being probably the largest number that has ever appeared in one copy of any journal since the invention of newspapers.

THE total number of messages forwarded from postal telegraph stations in the United Kingdom was 257,816 last year.

HER MAJESTY has been graciously pleased to approve of the grant of a pension of £100 a year on the Civil List to the widow of the late Mark Lemon.

Bank of British Columbia.

Daily News, April 10.

The half-yearly general meeting of the shareholders in this bank was held at the London Tavern yesterday; Mr. Thos. W. L. Mackean in the chair.

The Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, observed that ample evidence was afforded by the accounts that the business of the bank was prospering satisfactorily. The deposits, notes in circulation, bills payable, and other liabilities, showed an increase over the previous half-year of something like £117,927. In bills discounted, bills receivable, and other securities, there was an increase of £219,207. The accounts altogether showed that the bank was in a much better position now than six months ago, and especially that very large item of increase (£219,207) in bills discounted, bills receivable, and other securities. Another favorable feature was the increase of notes in circulation, which for so small a bank was considerable. The deposits had increased by £53,000. He then proceeded to give an account of the state of the several branches. That with reference to San Francisco indicated a very satisfactory result for the current quarter. From Victoria the dates were to 4th March, and the manager stated that the mining prospects were favorable, and that those for the coming season might be regarded as cheerful. From Portland the manager sent word that the general business was unusually satisfactory, and that the demand for money fully absorbed the capital at his disposal. Here he might remark that their managers had carried out the conservative policy of the directors in a very proper manner. In former years it was the want of this action—the neglect on the part of the managers to carry out the instructions of the directors—that led them into the humiliating position in which they were then placed. As the managers had now had six years' experience, it was thought the time was coming when the business of the bank would be materially increased, and when, perhaps, the directors would have to appeal to the shareholders for a still further augmentation of capital. In the meantime he had no doubt but that the operations of the bank would continue in the same satisfactory state as now. Before sitting down, he would read an extract from a speech of His Excellency the Governor of British Columbia, showing the prospects of that country:—"As a British colony, isolated on this continent, our prospects were clouded and the idea of a railway through British territory to connect us with our fellow countrymen in Canada was but a dream. As a Province of the Dominion our anticipations are bright and confident, and the Canadian Pacific Railway is already a reality and soon to be an accomplished work. Free from debt, and with considerable accumulated funds at your disposal I am confident that through your judgment and prudence, the financial resources of the Province will be so appropriated in works of a useful and reproductive character as to secure to the utmost the general welfare of the Province."

Mr. Gillespie seconded the motion for the adoption of the report.

Mr. Coningsby spoke with much satisfaction of the policy and management of the directors, and he referred to the fact of their having placed £5,000 to the reserve fund as an evidence that through their ability and devotion the bank was again sailing in smooth water.

After some other observations from Mr. Murrell and Dr. Beattie, the motion was carried.

The dividend of 6 per cent. per annum was approved; Mr. Jas. Anderson and Mr M. R. Smith were re-elected directors; Mr. Robertson was re-appointed auditor, and Mr. Gibbes was appointed auditor; after which a hearty vote of thanks, proposed by General Rigby, was accorded to the chairman and directors, and general manager, which brought the proceedings to a close.

Queen Charlotte Islands.

[From the Daily News.]

Insular possessions of high importance are situated in the Pacific Ocean, north of Vancouver Island, off the coast of British Columbia, and from their position destined to fall under our rule. These Islands, known as the Queen Charlotte group, were first discovered by the celebrated navigator, Captain Cook, and nine years later, in 1787, Captain Dixon took formal possession of them in the name of the British Crown. The group consists of two large islands and two smaller ones, lying in an archipelago of islets. The four principal ones, Graham, Moresby, North and Prevost, are divided merely by narrow arms of the sea, and taken together measure 180 miles in length, by 60 miles at the greatest breadth. They are very accessible in one respect, because they are within easy reach of all maritime nations and a short distance from British Columbia, to which they naturally belong. But a surf rolls on the shore rendering landing a work of risk, and the nations who merely occupy the coast lines are, warlike and unfriendly. The white man has continued to render himself an object of hatred to the nations of almost all the uncivilised islands in the Pacific, and the Queen Charlotte Islanders are no exception to the general rule. This group is described as the Eden of the North Pacific. The climate is so delicious, caused in some degree by the warm river or the Pacific gulf stream that skirts the coast of Japan, and with a speed of eighty miles each twenty-four hours, running north, washes the coast of British Columbia, carrying its heated waters to Alaska. This mysterious and mighty volume of water, which Japanese call the Kuso-Sino, or heated river gives to our territory on the Pacific coast the climate of Devonshire. The Queen Charlotte Islands teem with various mineral products, and the interior is clothed with magnificent forests of the finest timber. They are hilly though not mountainous; the flats are covered with superb specimens of pine and cedar; the coast indented with inviting harbors. We are indebted for our latest information regarding these islands to Francis Poole, C. E, who sought them out in the interests of a mining company. He was introduced by Sir James Douglas, the Governor of British Columbia, to one Ketquen a leading chief, and he set out for the islands with a party of explorers, accompanied by the chief. Mr. Poole tells us that he was not deceived in his prognostications as to their mineral wealth. On his very first exploring stroll he came upon the outcrops of a rich vein of copper, and in the course of the same walk made further discoveries. That his expedition failed as a commercial speculation arose from three causes—the difficulty of procuring labor; the enormous wages, $50 and board; and the impossibility of exercising control over the hands. There was no authority to enforce obedience; he had neither right nor strength to punish, so the men, banding together, laughed at reproof and expostulation. He compliments Ketquen for the fidelity of his friendship and the assistance he rendered him, while he ran several narrow escapes from the hostility of other tribes. Ultimately, Mr. Poole abandoned the islands, and, with his party, actually made the voyages, incredible as it may seem, in canoes to Victoria. He ran the gauntlet of many hundred miles of dangerous sea coast and hostile Indians, and landed in safety. He boasts of it as the most marvellous canoe voyage ever made, and, looking at the distance he traversed and the perils of the Pacific waves, his boast is not extravagant. We suppose the Queen Charlotte Islands come under the control of our Secretary of State; but he has so much work nearer home claiming attention that for the next twenty years we may act wisely if we trust to England to colonize them.

Military Status of the Dominion.

VICTORIA, B. C., May, 1872.

EDITOR STANDARD:—As it is probable that it will not be very long before British Columbia will be called upon to contribute her quota to the forces of the Dominion, it is possible that your readers may find some interest in a slight sketch of the first militia organization in the world. The more so perhaps that I conceive the subject to be one which has naturally, not attracted much attention hitherto, that the principles on which the service is based are but imperfectly understood, and its structure and history but little known.

Sir George Cartier's Militia Act did not come into operation until October, 1868, and a foundation for the splendid force which, under the provisions of that act has since come into existence, was undoubtedly laid, under the able supervision of Colonel (now Major-General) Macdougall; during the 3 or 4 years previous to that period. Indeed, in 1866—when the necessity of an extensive and efficient organization for defence was strongly impressed on the country by the folly and wickedness of the Fenians, the culpable supiness of the United States Government and the open sympathy of the masses with the marauders—some twenty batialions in Ontario and Quebec were already numbered, bore county names, and many of them, mottos on their colors, and special designations. In the course of that somewhat memorable year some thirty additional regiments were similarly distinguished, and the Canadian Militia List of 1867 counted fifty-two battalions, two or three only of which have since been disbanded, and, I believe, in every case reorganized. Since 1867 the requirements of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick have raised the number to about 80. I do not happen to have by me the "Militia Report" for 1871, and no "Militia List" has been published since 1870, but in the "Report" for 1870 I see the 73rd mentioned, and I know that several regiments have since been placed upon a permanent footing. By the time the organization of the force in Manitoba, New Brunswick, and British Columbia is completed the numbers will probably reach 100. I do not here make any mention of the numerous troops and squadrons of cavalry, and the companies and batteries of garrison ann field artillery, of which one or more are to be found in most counties, merely measuring the extent of the force by its infantry organization.

But, before the coming into operation of the Militia Act of 1868, the active force, based on "Volunteer Acts," of which four or five had been passed in the preceding five or six years, lacked the cohesion of a great principle, as well as a recognition of its necessity, and a cheerful acquiescence in its burthens on the part of the country at large. This vital necessity was supplied by Sir George's Act, which broadly asserts the imperative duty and liability of every man within certain limitations of age, to serve his country in arms when called upon.

A hasty perusal of Sir George's Act might leave an impression that it contained no very remarkable feature, but he who should permit himself to form so superficial a judgment, would conceive a false estimate of the foresight and breadth of views of that able and courageous statesman, who, though no soldier himself, selected the Militia Department, both because he foresaw not only the great difficulty attending the inception and the execution of a comprehensive measure, but also the means, chiefly those afforded by his own determination, of overcoming them. The Act is therefore found not burdened with elaborate details, which it leaves to be carried out by orders in council, general orders from headquarters, and the militia regulations, supplemented by the Queen's regulations, and the Mutiny Act and Articles of War, so far as they are applicable, when troops are called out for active servance. In fact its great merits are the assertion of the broad principle of every man's liability to serve, and a certain elasticity which admits of increase and improvement unfettered only by the supplies which Parliament may deem it expedient to vote.

With admirable judgment Sir George, notwithstanding the extensive power of the ballot conferred by the Act, has hitherto been steady in his determination to rely upon the free spirit of volunteering, and the general funess of the ranks at the annual drills up to last year has fully justified him, so that the country has not as yet experienced the slightest pressure of compulsion. Of course many faults are inherent in a force so composed, and it is believed that this year the ballot will have to be brought into operation, the reasons for which I will explain further on.

In the meantime it is to be recognized that, as in many other matters, we are living in times which are fast making history of no ordinary character, Sir George has brought us face to face with the problem whether, in our circumstances, and in these days, an armed nation is not better than a standing army, and I do not doubt that, if his policy be, as it deserves to be, freely and ungrudgingly supported by the manly spirit of the nation, we shall, in two or three years, witness its solution in favor of the former.

GOVERNOR ARCHIBALD'S RESIGNATION.—The telegraph has informed us of the resignation of his position by Lieutenant-Governor Archibald, and of its acceptance by the Dominion Government. It ought to be stated that though the resignation is only now accepted, it has been in the hands of the Ministry for some considerable time. Although Mr. Archibald went to Manitoba pleged to stay there only a limited time, the Government has been unwilling to relieve him. Tired of the exacting duties of the position, however, he insisted upon his resignation being accepted, and the Government was at length compelled to yield to his solicitations.

THE St. John Daily Tribune of April 4th states that the building of ships has been resumed with great energy in and around that city. No less than 38,340 tons of wooden ships are now on the stocks or under contract, and as many more will be built there in the present year. A good ship of spruce can now be built at St. John for $40 per ton, but $5 more than the rates before the war. The new ships in progress are in part for owners in the provinces and in part for English owners. A rise of 20 per cent. on the cost of building iron vessels on the Clyde has created a demand for wooden ships.

Memory presides over the past. Fell's Coffee over the present. The first lives in a rich temple hung with glorious trophies, and lined with tombs, but Fell's Coffee has but one shrine and that is every breakfast table Its aroma walks the earth like a spirit and can be found for sale at every respectable dealer in British Columbia. Beware of spurious imitations. ly *

Supreme Court of British Columbia.

GENERAL ORDER.

WHEREAS by "The Supreme Court Fees Ordinance, 1870," it is among other things enacted that it shall be lawful for the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, from time to time, and at any time thereafter, to make all such General Rules and Orders, as to him may seem advisable, for altering the then subsisting Schedule of Fees, and for fixing the Costs and Fees to be allowed and taken in any actions or other proceeding, either at law or in equity, or otherwise howsoever, in the said Supreme Court. And also, from time to time, to make such different scale or scales of such Costs, Fees, and Allowances, or any of them, for different portions of the Colony of British Columbia, as to him may appear necessary or advisable. And it was further then provided that no such alteration should have any validity until approved by the Governor, and published during one calendar month in the Government Gazette.

And whereas by virtue and in execution of the authority by the said recited Ordinance in me vested I, the undersigned MATTHEW BAILLIE BEGBIE, did on the 2nd June, 1870, make a General Order, which was duly approved and published, thereby fixing the rates of Costs and Fees referred to in the said recited Ordinance; and in conformity with the intention intimated in and by such Ordinance. I did, by the 2nd Section of the said General Order, declare that (unless specially excepted) all the sums and fees mentioned and authorised in the Schedule thereto (being a selection out of the sums and fees chargeable and taken in litigation in England) should be deemed fixed with reference only to business transacted in the parts of the then Colony between Victoria, Nanaimo, and Yale; and that for business transacted beyond these places, one-half additional might be demanded and taken; and that for business transacted beyond Quesnel River, or East of the North Fork of Thompson River, double Fees might be demanded.

And where as by "The County Court Ordinance, 1867," it was among other things enacted that the Judge or Judges of the Supreme Court should, from time to time, regulate the scale of Fees to be taken in County Courts, subject to confirmation by the Governor.

And, on the said 2nd June, 1870, by another General Order, issued under the authority of such last mentioned Ordinance, and under the hands of us the undersigned, Matthew Baillie Begbie, and Henry Pering Pellew Crease, a new scale of Fees and Costs was established for County Court matters; and it was in and by Section 4 of such General Order, provided that as to the different parts of the Colony the same proportionate arrangement was to be followed as was directed in the said recited General Order of even date therewith, in reference to the Fees in the Supreme Courts.

And whereas on the 4th April instant, the Honorable the Legislative Assembly passed a Resolution in the following words:—"That this House is of opinion that "the Court Fees in this Province, taken in the Supreme "Court and County Courts, should be reduced to the "same scale as the Fees taken in the corresponding Courts in England."

And whereas such Resolution is understood to express a revocation of the intention intimated by the former Legislature as to the increased rates to be taken in the remoter parts of the Province.

Now, therefore, as to the Supreme Court Fees, I, Matthew Baillie Begbie, Chief Justice of the said Supreme Court, do order, and as to County Court Fees we, Matthew Baillie Begbie, and Henry Pering Pellew Crease the Justices of the said Supreme Court, do order as follows, viz:—

Section 2 of the said hereinbefore recited General Order of the 2nd June, 1870, touching the Fees in the Supreme Court, and section 4 of the said recited General Order of the same date, touching the Fees in the County Courts, are hereby respectively discharged and cancelled, so far as they relate to the Fees of Court, which under and by virtue of the said hereinbefore recited Ordinance and General Orders, or either of them, or under or by virtue of any now valid Legislative enactment, or Order of Court, are now liable to be paid into the Provincial Treasury.

DR. CHING FUN—A CARD—EDITOR STANDARD—Through the medium of your paper I want to state the very great good that has been done me by Dr. Ching Fun of this city, next door Kwong Lee & Co For 24 years I suffered with neuralgia on the brain, which baffled the skill of three first-class American physicians. Lattery bronchitis attacked my right lung, and my eyes became painfully inflamed. Despairing of ever being cured I proced myself as a last resort in the hands of Dr. Ching Fun, and after five months treatment I am a well man and feel that I cannot sound the eminent Chinese gentleman's praises too loudly, so that all my countrymen similarly affecteed may visit and find relief. Respectfully,

JOHN HENTON, of Kentucky, U. S.
